No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it, ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 20, 1864.

NATIONAL UNION NOMINATIONS.

For President,
ABRAHAM LINCOLN,
Of Illinois.

For Vice-President,
ANDREW JOHNSON,
Of Tennessee.

For Presidential Electors,
GEORGE L. WOODS, of Wasco County,
H. N. GEORGE, of Linn County,
J. F. GAZLEY, of Douglas County.

Who are McClellan's Supporters.

The letter of acceptance written by the lately elevated and incompetent Lieut. McClellan is of itself a "good Lord, good Devil" sort of a document, without exhibiting either scholarship, honesty or patriotism. He proposes to lead the Democratic party near the White House, as he once led the Union troops near Richmond—just near enough to get badly whipped. No man who is thoroughly loyal—who desires to see the Union preserved—who believes McClellan was not false to his command while digging their graves in Virginia instead of leading them against the Nation's foe, can vote for him after reading the equivocal letter in which he accepts the Chicago nomination. No unequivocal war Democrat like Ben. Butler or Gen. Dix can be found to urge his claims to an election. He depends upon and is only supported by those who desire the disintegration of our glorious Union into two or more irreconcilable and ever antagonistic parts. We quote a specimen of the argument used by the advocates of McClellan's election, which we find in an address delivered before a Democratic mass meeting in California, and published in full in that carnation pink of constitutional patriotism—the Marysville Express. After saying that the Confederate army around Richmond, "in point of desperate, determined, heroic and unconquerable will, has no equal," he thus proudly speaks of his confrere in the battle against the Union:

> And I will here add, without the fear of contradiction, that that army is commanded by a General whose military reputation would not suffer by a comparison with that of the most renowned heroes of either ancient or modern times; a General who beats back the mightiest and most ably commanded army of the North, and defends the city of Richmond with one hand, while with the other he thunders at the gates of Washington.
> Look at the eagerness with which the beardless youth and the toothless old age of the South rush to arms in defence of what they regard as their most sacred rights, while your Northern recruits are dragged in chains and handcuffs to a war revolting to their reason and damning to their conscience, a war which they religiously believe can result in nothing better than the loss of their liberties and the ruin of their own country.

After thus confessing that in order to fill up their armies, the rebels have "robbed alike the cradle and the grave," and paid a true Confederate compliment to the zeal of our loyal Union troops, in the following paragraph he depicts something of the attitude of the friends of McClellan in the North, who are ready at any moment to seize the sword and firebrand and apply them to peaceful Northern homes unless this "war for subjugation against a united South" be stopped. Hear him:

> And when you have duly considered the past history and present aspect of this unnatural war, and, further, taken into account the fact that we are a divided North, in constant danger of a civil war at home, waging a war for subjugation against a united South, then tell, again I ask, tell me how much nearer you are to the completion of your work than when you first began? Tell me how many of those sixty days, those direful bloody days, must roll round!

There is no music for him in the voice of an "intense loyalist;" it "squeaks." But we quote again:

> But it seems to me that I hear the squeaking voice of some intense loyalist exclaiming: "We will crush out this divided sentiment of the North, and then the war will be more successful." Why, sir, a Roman tyrant once tried the experiment of crushing out divided sentiment.
> He made the eternal city run with blood, but only demonstrated the maxim that "the blood of the martyr is the seed of the church."
> The early Puritans tried it, when they cropped the ears and bored with red hot irons the tongues of unoffending Quakers, and the world laughs at their folly, and has fixed the stamp of everlasting infamy upon their intolerant bigotry.
> Yes, sir, Abraham Lincoln has tried it, and behold he has aroused a sleeping lion in whose awful presence he turns pale, his trembling knees smite each other and his teeth chatter with fear. But again, it seems to me that I hear that voice exclaim, "How is it in the rebel Government; do you think that Jeff. Davis would tolerate any difference of opinion there?"
> My countrymen, be not deceived. If the Southern people are to-day united as a people were never united before, they are indebted for that fact not to Jefferson Davis but to Abraham Lincoln.
> I will not say that it is owing to any barbarities which he has participated upon them, but I will say that it flows, as a necessary consequence from the most diabolical system of humanity which ever called forth the anathemas of outraged man, or evoked the curses of an indignant God.
> And we, my countrymen, must stand silently by while the work of ruin goes on.

What does this mean? What does this man, who is speaking for the "hero of Antietam," want to do, in the event of his not being compelled to "stand silently by while the work of ruin goes on?" Will he fight for the restoration of the Union? Has he said the South was wrong or that it commenced the war? Has he said the Union must be preserved? Has he said one word for the Union or the North, except to heap anathema and insult upon it? We have not garbled the extract: the paragraphs follow each other in the reported speech as we have given them. And it is pure McClellanism. Can an honest Union man accept these enunciated sentiments as his own? Can any honest Union man vote for one who has had the enemy in his grasp and failed to "shut his hand," when his only advocates are enemies themselves? Let the speech from which we have quoted be delivered in any town under rebel control, and it would send its author to the rebel Congress. Let him change the expression substituting Davis for Lincoln and South for North, and it would hang him without judge or jury or time to say his prayers. But we have another quotation to make, in order that our Union friends may fully comprehend the heinous crime of which they are guilty as accessories in maintaining the integrity of the Federal Government:

> I have read of the savage Indian who, with his merciless steel, would cleave the skull of an unoffending maiden, or dash out the brains of a harmless babe; but it was always the maiden daughter or the infant child of a real or supposed enemy; the most barbarous Indian has regard for the lives of his loyal subjects, but sir, it remained for the honest, humane and enlightened President of the United States of America to set the first example in the world wherein we find the ruler of a great people deliberately subjecting those whom he considers his faithful subjects to slow, lingering disease and death, and that, mark you, for the pretended purpose of punishing those whom he looked upon as the common enemy of himself and these his unfortunate victims.
> Behold, under the operations of this edict, some loyal husband of the South standing by the bedside of his sick wife, as she lies parched with fever and dying for the want of those medicines which are made contraband by the order of Abraham Lincoln. Is not this a splendid sight with which to stimulate the loyalty of that distressed husband? He says to himself if the blockade can only be broken, my wife lives; but otherwise she dies. How long, I ask you, would that loyal and [illegible] ed to [illegible]

We have [illegible] these who support [illegible] McClellan for the Presidency. Those who are [illegible] North after taking the oath of allegiance, are worse—traitors at heart who never had the manly courage to take a stand with their brother rebels and face the [illegible]

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to September 16.

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—The Union [illegible] convention met here to-day. Nearly 165 delegates were present. Gov. Andrews and the rest of the State ticket were renominated by acclamation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Vanderbilt which has been refitting at this port is again ready for sea. The improvements will probably enable her to increase her ordinarily high speed. It is considered likely that she will resume the search for the rebel pirates.

FORTRESS MONROE, Sept. 14.—Gen. Butler has arrived from the front. He comes here for improvement of his health, which, of late, has been somewhat impaired.

The flag of truce steamer New York arrived last night.

The Richmond Sentinel of the 12th reports a very destructive fire at Manchester on Friday night. Loss $41,000.

The Sentinel has an article on Sherman's depopulation of Atlanta, calling it an event unparalleled in war and without an example in modern times. It calls Sherman the chief among savages, captain of pirates, leader among highwaymen, prince among scoundrels and brutes and the foremost villain of the world. Sherman, it says, has given war a new feature. [illegible] it has been heretofore, it will be sterner. [illegible] henceforth shall be more horrible. The people are ready. If the President wants us, let him call for us. No matter about age. If this is the kind of warfare we are to resist, we will strip to fight. Better for halting age and peaceful innocence to die in defense of home than be driven out in the language of Hood to languish in exile. The last man, the last boy among us must take his arms sooner than endure such outrages such as those of Atlanta.

MACON, Sept. 6.—[illegible] captured yesterday say Sherman will now reinforce Grant to take Richmond and finish the rebellion. They also state that a part of his army go out of service this month. The enemy is closely massed at Atlanta. Not the slightest prospects of an early resumption of hostilities.

MACON, Sept. 10.—Wheeler's forces have been dispersed near Tullahoma by Gen. Steadman.

PETERSBURG, Sept. 9.—Grant is still perfecting his lines on the Weldon railroad, pushing his line slowly to the west [illegible]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—[illegible] Morgan [illegible]

found our guns trained upon it with surprising accuracy.

The 2d division correspondent says:

We [illegible] an exceedingly beneficial rest. The regiments are rapidly filling up. Gen. Davies has [illegible] to permit him to rejoin his command.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—A letter received from an officer on Grant's staff dated City Point, 11th, says:

Everything looks bright and cheering. Every day we [illegible] we are weakening the enemy more or less. Their troops are deserting to our lines in droves. We are receiving large accessions from the 11th Florida, which entered the rebel service 1100 strong, but has been reduced, by desertion, to less than [illegible]

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The [illegible] at Grant's headquarters, [illegible] says:

There is every reason to believe that the rebels have in contemplation, and are already preparing for the evacuation of Petersburg [illegible] their army within the defenses of Richmond. [illegible] account for the protracted [illegible] their failure to regain possession of the [illegible] Weldon Railroad captured by us. There has been considerable firing along a portion of the line to-day, but without results of any moment to either side.

Capt. [illegible], of the 2d Pennsylvania cavalry, who left Libby Prison on the 12th, informs the Washington correspondent of the Times that there are 250 of our officers imprisoned at Richmond, and that the men were all at Belle Isle. Since we have held Weldon Railroad, the Danville road, their only outlet, has been in so much danger that they dare not transport the prisoners south. The sentiment of our captured men was that they would rather endure their sufferings as prisoners than that the rebels should fill up their ranks with 30,000 or 40,000 fresh men by exchange. [illegible] that Beauregard and Lee refused to disclose [illegible] of our numbers or position.

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 15.—Official returns have been made from 275 cities and towns showing the total vote to be 85,622. Majority for Cony is 16,916. The total vote to be heard from will amount to about 25,000 and will increase Cony's majority to nearly 18,000. The total vote of the State is nearly 15,000 less than last year. Returns from 119 representative districts show the election of 103 Unionists and 16 Democrats. The Senate is unanimously Union. Every county in the State was carried by the Union party.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Hon. Horatio Seymour was nominated for Governor and D. R. Floyd Jones for Lieut. Governor by acclamation at the Democratic Convention to-day.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The publication of the New Nation will be stopped by an injunction issued by Judge Sutherland. Its leader to-day announced its abandonment of Fremont.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—In the Supreme Court the injunction against the New Nation refers only to an illustration printed by Gen. Cluseret; the regular paper goes to press to-night. The difficulty as inferred from a copy of suppressed sheet seems to have been an attempt by Cluseret to turn the paper over to a person who has not hitherto appeared prominently as a possible candidate for the Presidency.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 14.—The American's special says: Averill has reoccupied Martinsburg. Parties engaged in repairing the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad have resumed their work.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Herald's Mobile Bay correspondent says under date of the [illegible] Everything is quiet here. There is no probability of an immediate movement on Mobile. The captured rebel iron-clad Tennessee still effectually blockades the main channel across Dog River bar [illegible] its way [illegible]

[illegible]

Col. Kelly is [illegible] on such a crowd [illegible] to coming years [illegible] but as he seems [illegible] must of course be [illegible] the interesting company.

I am inclined to think the leader of the [illegible] in the past—the Jupiter of the Oregon press—the [illegible] of the Salem Clique, has come down considerably below par to be found acting the part of a [illegible] half a hundred [illegible] the most distinguished [illegible]

I [illegible] that Judge Williams in his [illegible] in answer to the [illegible] announced his intention [illegible] in support of Lincoln and Johnson [illegible] canvass [illegible]

How long since the Statesman, under its new management, became the apologist of the Salem clique? and how long since that paper adopted the work [illegible] its earlier history by writing correspondence in the office, dated at Portland?

It strikes me, for one, that the Statesman and OREGONIAN, enlisted as they are in one cause, had better [illegible] warfare against the common enemy [illegible] the [illegible] of the Statesman, that no one in Portland knows of a "Portland Clique;" that Mr. Pittock is the sole proprietor of the OREGONIAN, and that Mr. Holbrook does not write for that paper.

Whatever caused the Statesman man to have with Mr. Holbrook, and whatever [illegible] to make [illegible] of Sanitary funds, there are certainly better ways of putting the same before [illegible] which are so ready [illegible]

[illegible]

The weather is [illegible] there are lively [illegible] anticipation of the State and Sanitary Fairs. [illegible] to-morrow to give some idea of the State Capital, the improvements going on, and the future prospects before it.

Extensive Enterprise.—Judge N. B. Clough has just returned to this city from a trip to the new mines of Owyhee, and like everybody else visiting that part of the country, is earnestly of the opinion that no section of the coast can excel its richness. The "feature" of Owyhee now seems to be the incorporation of a company for a mammoth enterprise of tunnelling Silver Mountain, and among the incorporators we notice some of our citizens—Thomas, Albanus C. Swift, Addison C. Gibbs, Thomas J. Carter, Uriah Perry, A. P. Mincar, George W. Vaughn, W. S. Pennington, C. Collier Robbins, J. Morey and George Barry, the incorporation to exist for fifty years, with a capital stock of $.... The company propose running a tunnell 50 feet by the same breadth, through the entire mountain, for the discovery of new lodes, and the development of those already discovered. Under the provisions of the articles of their incorporation the company expect to reap rich reward for their investments. The name designated is the Morning Star Gold and Silver Tunnel Company. The feeling pervades every camp in the upper country and the mills now engaged in crushing the precious rock will be the means of our receiving lots of bullion this fall.

United States Notes.—We took a look at the "greenbacks" in Ladd & Tilton's bank yesterday, out of curiosity, and find that Uncle Sam deals in a multiplicity of accounts, of which the currency is the representative. The notes with coupons attached are the most interesting, parties might not understand their operation at a glance, but they bear upon their face the directions in regard to the coupons. The compound notes, to which our attention was particularly directed, run for three years, and bear interest, which is to be compounded semi-annually, but payable only upon maturity. On the back of each note is printed its value for every six months after the date of its issue. Thus, the one that strayed into our fingers was for $100, which, at the end of three years, would be worth $119 70. The ink of this money is engraved and printed in the U. S. Treasury department, and they compose beautiful specimens of the Engraver's art.

Reception of Judge Williams.—We understand our citizens are determining a course for the public reception of Hon. Geo. H. Williams, Senator elect, on his return home from the State Capital. We hope the matter will be done up in a fine style, appropriate to the occasion, and receive the sanction of all our citizens. Judge Williams is one of our ablest men to-day, and his election to the high and responsible position in the councils of the nation should be a matter for us to rejoice over in common with our fellow townsmen.

Personal.—Among the guests at Arrigoni's we noticed our old friend and former resident Shubrick Norris, Esq., whose association with the early affairs of Multnomah are remembered well. He has been absent from the city a long term, and can hardly recognize the place, but still it feels like an old home to him. Had he remained away another season or two the old "stamping ground" would have been literally changed. We are glad to welcome back an old resident—it shows that Portland is not such a bad place, after all, but that those who have once tried it will return.

A Mis-Statement.—In alluding to the words of Rev. Thomas H. Pearne, used at the assemblage in front of the Western Hotel on Saturday night, we incorrectly reported his having said that he came out of "the little end of the horn." This was a mistake. The aperture would have been entirely too small to begin with, for such an event as that. What the gentleman did say was, he "Had ran the race in the Senatorial contest, and came out behind." The best of the whole matter appears to be his good feeling on the subject.

Clearing Up.—Couch's wharf has been a busy point for the past week, and not much attention could be given to the dust and accumulating dirt. Our steamers were loaded for the Valley during the last two days, and our merchants were rejoicing over balances yesterday, so that by to-night there will not be much stray freight left. Two vessels are discharging, and the steamer Rival brings heavy freight from Oregon City, principally for the Dalles and below.

Arrived.—We received by mail last evening the State Statesman, of Tuesday morning, July 26, containing the "Salutatory" of the editor in commencing its publication. The Express of Wells, Fargo & Co. has brought to us No. 11 of the same paper, containing seven weeks later dates. The paper is issued tri-weekly, and Uncle Sam will have to get faster than that, to keep up with the times.

Handsome Buggies.—Two buggies, as handsome as were ever imported to this section of country, have recently been constructed in this city by Messrs. Cory & Sevison. One of these has been purchased by Dr. W. A. at $800. Bennett & Quimby take the other at $650. The public should know that the time has passed for sending abroad for such articles, and a look at these vehicles will prove the truth of it. They are fine models.

From the Cascades.—The steamer Wilson G. Hunt brought a large freight and passenger list to this city from the upper country last night. Among the freight were the wagons, etc., of Dan Rice's Circus, the Minstrel troupe of Frank Hussey, and a number of freight direct from the States. Nine wagons and sixty-five horses made up the lot. The amount of freight was light, there being no connection above the Dalles.

Reduction in Letter Express.—Notices were posted up in Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express office in this city yesterday, to the effect that rates on letters carried to the Boise mines would be reduced to 50 cents each. We are informed that the same rule will be applied to other parts of the upper Columbia country, to take effect immediately.

Removal.—L. White & Brother opened their new store yesterday, in the fine new structure of J. L. Parrish, corner of Front and Washington streets, and now present their compliments to the public from one of the finest blocks in the city. See ad.

Converting Old Material.—The old steam boiler, which has been laying near the foot of Pine street for less than a century past, was being chiseled to pieces yesterday, preparatory to the use of its material in the manufacture of railroad chairs.

Business Before the City Recorder.—During the absence of his Hon. Judge McCoy on a temporary sojourn at the Capital, business accumulated considerably, and the Court was occupied a greater portion of yesterday, but no cases were disposed of.

Building Up.—Improvements are pushing forward to such an extent up town that we observe the canyon on Front street is now being bridged over, on private property, for the erection of a building.

A Misty Day.—Yesterday was one of the real days of the "olden time," and last evening a person on the streets would feel refreshed by the soft, misty mist. Indications are right for a genuine rain-storm.

Willamette Theatre.—The Variety Troupe played to a full house at the above place of amusement last night, and we learn will proceed to Salem to-day.

Thanks.—Capt. Wolfe of the steamer Wilson G. Hunt, has our thanks for valuable favors last evening.

A Greenback Cane.—Public attention is directed to the advertisement, in another column, headed as above.

Attention Portland Guards.—Your Company will meet for drill and meeting this (Tuesday) evening, at 7½ o'clock precisely. A punctual and full attendance is requested, and business of importance to every member will be transacted. By order,

H. L. HERMAN, Orderly

Sanitary Contributions.—All ladies who are preparing articles for the State Sanitary Fair, are requested to take them to the Baptist Church, on Tuesday morning Sept. 20th, between the hours of eight and ten o'clock, as the Committee wish to appraise and prepare to forward them.

Dysentery.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

"A Slight Cold," Coughs.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "slight cold" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. Military Officers and Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket and taken as occasion requires.

Redington & Co., San Francisco, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

Oregonians should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequaled as an invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health.—Sold by Druggists and dealers generally. ly26daw Periodical Headache—so common in uncleared and marshy countries, Tic Douloureux, that most painful affection of the nerves of the face, are often only attacks of ague in disguise—proceeding from the same noxious influence. Jaundice, Dyspepsia and Diarrhea, are frequently but disguised forms of Intermittent Fever. Even Rheumatism and Epilepsy, often result from the same miasmal cause. For such, Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue is an unfailing remedy. By striking at the root of these afflictions, it applies with equal certainty, as for the cure of Fever and Ague in its simplest forms.

Imitations are abroad. Be particular to enquire for Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. Sold everywhere.

OYSTERS! OYSTERS!

Louis McMurray & Co., Baltimore,

The attention of the trade is particularly requested to the above favorite brand of Oysters. Messrs. McMurray & Co. claim to be the originators of opening the Oyster in the raw state by hand, thus preserving intact its native delicacy and flavor. The superiority of this method over the one in general use, of steaming the oysters to open them, whereby the natural flavor is lost and a cooked oyster has to be substituted, is apparent, and recommends itself to all who have given this brand a trial.

The undersigned are receiving fresh invoices by each arrival of Clippers from New York, which they offer to the trade at favorable terms.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

The operation of this palatable remedy on the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and corrective. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutritious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the gastric juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is now offered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; strength, in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and quickens the animal spirits.

For Females.

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the depressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

A Story for the Dog Days.

"Mad dog! mad dog! mad dog!" Such was the cry that startled a party of six from the enjoyment of strawberries and cream at eight o'clock on the —th of June, 1864, in Mrs. Bustle's back parlor, at ——, and caused such a panic as may be better imagined than described. Mrs. Owen caught up her infant son Orlando in her arms; Mr. Owen seized the carving knife; old Mrs. Bustle ascended a chair, and her daughter, Estella, fainted in Capt. Oakleigh's arms immediately; Capt. Oakleigh himself looking as though he would willingly have dispensed with his furlough had he expected to encounter such enemies as mad dogs at home; as for Abigail, the help, who had just entered with ice-water, that damsel flung the pitcher into the air and rushed out of the door screaming, and in an instant returned still screaming, accompanied by Mrs. Blossom, a portly neighbor, whose usually rosy countenance was of an ashy paleness, and who gasped, as she leaned against the door, "Mad dog."

Human nature is selfish, consequently the good people returned with the query, "Did he bite you?"

"No, Ladies and gentlemen—no, not bitten," replied Mrs. Blossom; "but I've escaped by a miracle—a pure miracle—from the jaws of an infuriated beast—the Tompkins' Jowler, who is raving mad, and who pursued me from Hickory Hollow to this spot."

At this, Yankee hospitality resumed its sway, people came out of their corners and offered chairs and sympathy.

"He's been suspected for a day or so," continued Mrs. Blossom. "There's been a—a—a wildness in his eye; a general look about him that made me say to Tompkins, 'Beware of Jowler, sir.' Tompkins tied him up twenty-four hours. But after that time he began to have confidence in him, and the result was this; passing Tompkins' gate to-night I heard something gasping and panting, and looking over my shoulder, I saw the brute flying like a streak of lightning along the road. I took to my heels, he after me; and just as I reached your gate he caught up with me. Madame, his teeth entered the wood as I slammed it in his jaws, and he rushed away under the piazza."

"Under the piazza!—my piazza!" exclaimed Mrs. Bustle, faintly. "A mad dog under the piazza!"

"Thank Providence he is not in this parlor, ma'am," said Mrs. Blossom.

"As he may be in a minute," said Mrs. Owen.

Whereupon Miss Estella asked for another glass of water, and leaned more heavily on the Captain's shoulder.

"No one must set foot out of doors to-night," said Mrs. Bustle. "Mrs. Blossom, you must stop; we've plenty of spare rooms. Abigail, go down and bolt the cellar door."

The help left off moaning to declare, "she wouldn't for double wages."

"It's your place to obey, Abigail," said Mrs. Bustle.

"Not when my missus orders me to sacrifice myself to a mad dog," replied Abigail. "Help's life is worth as much as other folks, I reckon."

The argument was unanswerable. Mrs. Bustle looked around her. "The cellar door exposes the whole house to burglars," she hinted. No one moved; visions of Jowler suggested themselves to the minds of the boldest. Mrs. Bustle groaned. Mr. Owen suggested a fork in the latch of the cellar stairs, and violently stuck it in. Under the circumstances, every one felt he had acted nobly.

Order being in some measure restored, some one spoke of the neglected—and a plate and spoon being placed for Mrs. Blossom, conversation recommenced. Mad dog was the text, and bites of all kinds were alluded to—bites that proved fatal, legends of miraculous cures, &c., &c. In the midst of which, Master Orlando Owen, who belonged to the genus enfant terrible, ejaculated, apropos of nothing—

"I say, ma, Mith Ethtella kithed Captain Oakleigh when he kithed her!"

There was a sudden silence, then a titter, then a yell. On the impulse of the moment Capt. Oakleigh pinched young Orlando's ear severely.

The first idea was that the mad dog was concealed under the board, and had bit on Orlando. But explanations came at last, and the fiendish revenge brought to light. After which Mrs. Owen observed—

"I can believe anything!"

The Captain and the Owens, hitherto bosom friends, became as enemies. Miss Estella Bustle took French leave for the night; and to the excitement caused by the rabid animal, that of smouldering indignation and fury were added. The party retired for the night in anything but a pleasant mood, and arose next morning without alteration. After breakfast, Mrs. Blossom, armed with a stout cudgel, ventured homeward. But information being received through the baker that Jowler had not yet been found, none of the family could be induced to venture further than the piazza.

Mrs. Owen spent the morning in the chamber of her hostess, Mrs. Bustle, expatiating on the heinous act committed by the Captain, and wondering what vile passion could dwell in the soul of a man who could so use an innocent child! Miss Estella was invisible; the Captain smoked in the parlor, and Mr. Owen in the dining room; and the little houseful of dearest friends, who had met to pass the sultry summer in each other's society, had begun to detest each other heartily. Orlando himself was as revengeful as a demon, and told his mamma that he would kill Capt. Oakleigh when he was big enough—to which his mother, tempering good council with a parent's weakness, replied that it was "very wicked, but she couldn't wonder, poor dear!"

Such a state of things did not, of course, promote an agreeable time at lunch, or a pleasant dinner. At the meal Miss Estella appeared covered with confusion, and sat far removed from the Captain; and afterwards, in the cool of the day, knitted industriously in a solitary spot behind a table, but spoke not. As for the Captain, he went out on the piazza and sat down moodily. No one came out to keep him company—Estella dared not; the Owens were his foes; and Mrs. Bustle, in whose breast the exchanged kiss rankled, remained aloof. After a while, the solitary Captain stretched himself at full length upon a bench and fell asleep.

It was a charming evening, the moon shone through the tree branches down upon the piazza—the Captain snored peacefully, until at last he began to dream, and to dream of that awful creature, the mad dog. He was shut in all sorts of places with that animal—cornered by it—defending himself, with a bayonet, with a sword, once with a cannon. At last, as he was trying Greek fire, the dog, grown to the size of a mastodon, flew upon him and bit him. The pain (it was actual) startled the Captain wide awake. Horror of horrors! It was not all imagination—something clutched the finger of the hand which hung listlessly down towards the floor, as he lay on the bench—something bit him sharply, and in the darkness a little black shadow rushed away at full speed—Jowler, doubtless!

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous, so well authenticated, and of such peculiar character that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid.

The class of diseases for which the Syrup provides a cure, is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible, the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.

From well-known Citizens of Boston.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the "Peruvian Syrup," do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public.

It is well known that the medicinal effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is attained by combination IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN; and this solution may replace all the proto-carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica.

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr. Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Prof. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 3, 1850, page 76.)

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER,

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC.

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; will in the pale, relaxed, and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

From the army—the hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

ROCKSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1862.

* * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me.

* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $250 without benefit, has been cured by six bottles of your Bitters.
EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH STREET,
New York, August 2, 1863.

Dr. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness, and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well. * * * Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE.

* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y.

Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa.

REV. C. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y.

* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my business. H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O.

* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y.

etc. etc. etc. etc. etc.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and imposter. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterious stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.
